ABOUT

Introducing ourselves as the largest family-owned Georgian wine importer in the UK, we take pride in showcasing the finest hand-picked wine producers in Georgia. Our portfolio encompasses both large companies producing hundreds of thousands of bottles per year and small, artisanal wineries crafting exquisite, limited-edition wines.

With generations of expertise and a passion for traditional methods, our love for winemaking runs deep. Every bottle in our collection is a testament to Georgian wine's unique taste and history, combining contemporary and ancient techniques that reflect the hard work and distinctive terroir of Georgian winemakers.

We offer the most competitive prices for Georgian wines in the UK and our extensive collection spans every region of Georgia. Let us help you find the perfect bottle for any occasion and discover the rich heritage and exceptional quality of Georgian wine with us.

ANCIENT WINE-MAKING METHOD

Georgian wine-making method is an ancient and unique practice that dates back over 8,000 years. As the birthplace of wine, Georgia takes pride in its rich history of viticulture and winemaking, supported by recent discoveries of 8,000-year-old grape seeds and vine remnants in ancient clay vessels.

THE ANCIENT CLAY VESSELS THE QVEVRI METHOD

The Qvevri method, in which wine is fermented and aged in earthenware clay vessels, is the hallmark of Georgian wine and was designated by UNESCO in 2013 as an intangible cultural heritage of humanity. Wine plays a significant role in Georgian culture, interwoven with folklore, architecture, and fine art. The legacy of winemaking, passed down through generations, is a symbol of the deep history and cultural heritage of Georgian civilization.
